THE SCHOOL BOARD

ELECT JANITORS AND EXTRA TEACHERS.

Board Gets a Windfall of $12,000, and Cut Down to Estimate $10,000—School Principals Meeting.

The Board of Education met last night in C. L. McLane's office for the purpose of electing janitors for the various schools and selecting substitute teachers. All of the board were present and W. P. Thompson acted as chairman. The meeting was called to order and the resignation of W. M. Potter as janitor was read and accepted. Trustee Smith then made a motion to elect three substitute teachers, namely, Miss E. L. Wagner, Mrs. L. C. Ely and Miss Mary F. Ledy. The motion was seconded by Trustee Holland and carried by the board. The next before the board was the election of janitors. G. W. Smith was elected janitor of the Columbia school. Holland then made a motion that all the old janitors be re-employed, at the same salary as last year. The motion was seconded by Clark and carried. Their assignment is as follows: Columbia, Geo. W. Smith, $65; Emerson, T. H. Hunt, $70; Lincoln, Jacob Legler, $65; Jefferson, Pete Cronkus, $65; High School, G. W. Rucker, $90; Grammar, J. Webber, $70; Hawthorne, D. E. Smith, $80; Lowell, A. P. Stander, $65; Belmont and Kroger, S. M. Ray, $70.
H. J. Gross and E. F. Austin were elected temporary janitors to take G. W. Rucker's place until he returns from Tennessee. Their salary was placed at $50 per month each.
A change has been made in the estimate that was sent in to the County Superintendent of Schools, taking $5000 from the teachers' salaries and $5000 from the janitors' salaries, as the board upon investigation found that it had $12,000 in the State fund that had not been accounted for.
Miss Glotzbach was given the position as assistant to the kindergarten teacher, with salary fixed at $30 per month. C. Crane of Oakland was assigned temporarily as science teacher in the High School.
The principals of the various city schools met afterwards in the superintendent's office to discuss details connected with school opening tomorrow.

BARTON ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The Faits Will Be Here All Week—May Irwin on the 21st.
Prof. Faits will open his week's engagement at the Barton tonight and it promises to be one of the strongest bills presented at this popular play house in many days. Prof. Faits is well known to all California towns, for this is his fourth time in this state. This season the Faits have added several new vaudeville features. Miss Genevieve Osborne, the famous baritone vocalist, will appear each evening in popular selections. Bert Thatcher, the blind wonder, assisted by Young America, will appear in his original, musical comedy sketch. Prof. Faits will appear each evening in physical psychic phenomena and hypnotism, in which he will explain many points of interest. A volunteer class of subjects will be taken upon the stage each performance for the hypnotic experiments in which there will be plenty of fun for young and old. There will be but one performance each evening, lasting for about two and a half hours. The prevailing prices during the engagement will be 10, 20 and 30 cents. Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Prof. Faits will hypnotize a young lady in the window of Redlick's Mariposa street entrance, where she will lie in state during the rest of the afternoon. She will be carried to the Barton at 7:30 and will awaken at the opening of the performance. The box office is open all day for the sale of tickets.

May Irwin is Back.
That exuberantly mischievous person, May Irwin, is coming to town with her company in George W. Hobart's "Mrs. Black Is Back," which has been called a paradox (a logical farce). The vehicle served to amuse Broadway for six months last season, having played four different metropolitan engagements. First of all, Mr. Hobart had in mind May Irwin when he wrote "Mrs. Black." The result is obvious. It does not matter with what kind of lines May Irwin is supplied; she never fails in a way that always brings forth a laugh. As one critic recently remarked: "Miss Irwin can pick up a commonplace line, come down to the footlights and, taking her audience into her confidence, deliver the words with splendid effect." However, Mr. Hobart has been of material assistance to the comedienne and supplied her with lines that would be funny even if read by a first class actor. Miss Irwin introduces during the performance a number of her usual classics of rag time composition. May Irwin's date at the Barton is Thursday, September 21st.

NOVELTY GRAND THIS WEEK.

Program Contains Excellent List of Specialties.
The Novelty Grand Theater circuit realizes fully the need of providing a public as well educated as that of Fresno, with a program of ever increasing interest every week. Manager Dwyer has been able to put lots of snap into his numbers lately, and has been particularly fortunate this coming week.
If any preference can be given the prize number will probably be the Dowlings. They put on a high priced act that is way up, entitled "The Sage Brush." It is rare to find a high class sketch of this sort put on the vaudeville stage.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson will be very entertaining with a singing and dancing number.
Then Bert White will come on with a presentation of character songs and direct stories such as are seldom seen in Fresno.
Florida Sanford will bring to Fresno a list of versatile musical numbers. Especially good are her cornet solos.
George Keane has selected from his repertoire a touching song, "Dear Old Girl," which is especially adapted to the melting quality of his tenor voice, and the illustrations are especially adapted. The grand-o-scope pictures will be very amusing for this week.
Manager Dwyer announces that on account of the length of the program the first evening performance will take place at 8 o'clock sharp.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Announcement was made at the state department today that J. Martin Miller, who was appointed consul at Aix La Chappelle, but who was refused an exequatur by the German government, has been appointed consul general at Auckland, N. Z., and that Consul Dillingham at Auckland has been appointed to the post at Aix La Chappelle.

CALIFORNIA GEOGRAPHY

Should be studied by every citizen of California. It should be taught to the children, both in the school-room and in the home, as a matter of first importance. One of the easiest ways to learn California Geography is to secure one of the Fresno Republican's New Home Wall Charts. It will give you an excellent topographic relief map of California with statistics on elevations and irrigations. It will also give you a political map of the state of California, showing every county, river, railroad, town and city in the state. It also gives the population of every county, city, town and village, according to the latest government census, and this is not all. It shows you a splendid map of the United States, the Panama canal and history and statistics; it also gives you a special topographic map of Eastern Asia, Japan and the Island of Sakhalin. Also gives you a special map of the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and to add to the beauty and usefulness of these charts, we give you in beautiful colors the flags of all nations. These all make a most convenient and useful reference aid to the business man, lawyer, doctor, teacher, or any other intelligent citizen. Every office, library or home should have one of these excellent library wall charts. You can obtain one of these wall charts by subscribing or continuing the paper for six months and paying extra express charge of 20 cents. Any further particulars, address the Wall Chart Dep't., Fresno Republican, Fresno, Cal.

TALK NO. 52

The Class Dunc

The following from the pen of the editor of the Saturday Evening Post:

"Many a boy or girl has been a dund at school and has made a failure in after life simply because there was some defect in his or her eyes which made it impossible for them to see things as they are or to direct their attention upon their studies. The brain gets not only the most of its information through the eyes, but also the most of its skill in the all important faculty of judgment. And if the eyes do not see correctly information and training are necessarily defective and faulty."

"These facts are obvious; yet thousands on thousands, grow up, struggling, fail wholly or partially, die without knowing the simple and perhaps easily curable way of their misfortunes. And in every school today there are those so-called dundards."

By our scientific methods we are prepared to examine the eyes of the child with the same degree of skill as the adult.

RISLEY EXPLAINS

FIRE BOARD DID NOT ENCROACH UPON CITY TRUSTEES.

Trustees Should Not Make Appropriations From Commission's Fund at Their Own Instance.

The difference between the Police and Fire Commission and the City Trustees will be amicably settled, as soon as each side thoroughly understands the position of the other. At present, each board insists that it is seeking no trouble and wishes in no sense to offend the feelings of the members of the other part of the city government, but at the same time is looking carefully to see that none of its own rights is being trampled upon.

The discussion in the meeting of the trustees Friday night resulted in a meeting yesterday between Mayor Lyon and Commissioner Risley to discuss the relations of the two bodies. Later, Mr. Risley gave out the following for publication:

"Editor Republican:—In your issue of September 9th, two columns are devoted to proceedings had before the Board of City Trustees and the Police and Fire Commission. 'EXERCISE THEIR AUTHORITY' and in said article it appears some discussion was had among the members of the board as to the alleged action of the Police and Fire Commission.

"There is no dispute about the law referred to by Mr. Collins, by which we are bound and intend in all respects to be guided, and Mr. Anderson's reply that nothing was done by the Board of Trustees at this time as there was nothing before the board, it having no knowledge of any action of the Police and Fire Commission except from newspaper report, was most correct and very pat.

"There is no occasion for the Board of City Trustees to apprehend that the Police and Fire Commission are seeking to deprive them of their power or that we fail to recognize that the Board of Trustees are 'CITY' and the Police and Fire Commission are not, as voiced by Mr. Shaw. On this occasion there was nothing before the board for consideration; the Police and Fire Commission had not submitted any action to them for ratification and until they did, no salaries were raised and no harm done.

"The chief of the Fire Department recommended certain changes for the good of the service, among which was the appointment of three captains and three lieutenants, and increase of duties with an increase of pay. The Police and Fire Commission accepted the report and the same was placed on file. In due time and at our convenience a request will be made to the Board of City Trustees to authorize the Police and Fire Commission to make such changes. Until such time is asked there is nothing before the Board of City Trustees for consideration and no salaries are raised. To say that we raised the salaries of anybody is inaccurate. The Board of Police and Fire Commission have no power to fix or raise any salary, of which fact we are fully cognizant; nothing in that line can be done except by the City Trustees, of which power they cannot be deprived.

"As to the question that the quarterly statement has not been furnished, it is sufficient to say that it is the duty of the secretary of the commission to prepare such report, which he is now working; the passing of new ordinances, codifying the present ordinances, the proposed sewer extension, issuing of bonds, the new city hall and many other matters have so occupied the clerical force of the city clerk's office that business which is less pressing must give way to that more important and when in due time said report is prepared and presented to the Board of Police and Fire Commission, it will be duly considered, corrected or amended and delivered to the City Trustees for consideration."

Yours very respectfully,
E. W. RISLEY,
A member of the Police and Fire Commission.

Mayor Lyon stated yesterday that the police commission would be careful to observe the rights of the trustees and wished in no way to interfere with them. On the other hand, it felt that it should have the financial management of the Police and Fire departments, for which it was responsible; that is, to have the tent of the appropriation for those departments. For instance, this year the allowance was $40,000. The commissioners will keep within this appropriation, and if the trustees wish to make other appropriations from the general fund, well and good.

The action of the trustees in making the allowance for bicycle hire was referred to in the commission. The commissioners turned down bills at its last sitting for bicycle hire. Then the trustees decided that the policemen could have $5 a month when they are doing duty in the suburbs. Members of the commission say they have no objection to this, but that the bills must be taken out of the general fund and not from the fund set aside for the use of the police commission.

The Mayor says that the action of the board in passing a bunch of bills calling for paying of money from the police and fire funds, which had not been approved by the commission, was illegal. Nothing further is to be said about this, but no such bills will be signed in future.

BARON ROSEN DENIES RUSSIA HAS AGREED TO PAY INDEMNITY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Baron de Rosen today gave out an emphatic and unqualified denial of the story cabled from London to the effect that a secret treaty between Japan and Russia had been arranged whereby Russia should pay to Japan an indemnity of $500,000,000 and $100,000,000 to be paid for the care and maintenance of the Russian prisoners of war. Baron de Rosen declared that the story had not the slightest foundation and was absurd on its face.

SECRETARY TAFT AND HIS PARTY ARE IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—The transport Logan with the Taft party on board arrived here at noon today. There was no official reception. All the party went on shore.

Secretary Taft was interviewed upon the Japanese situation but he was very non-committal in his replies.

The Logan will leave here at 7 o'clock this evening. All on board are well.

PRESIDIOS TODAY

SOLDIER BALL TEAM MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE HERE.

Is a Fast Organization and Great Game Is Promised With the Fresno Bunch.

The Presidio baseball team makes its first appearance in this city today, and there will consequently be a great gathering of the fans this afternoon at Recreation park. Fresno has met and defeated every other team in the league—and has also been defeated by every other team in the league—but the Presidio's calibre is unknown. So today's game will settle the one important question—what figure will the soldier boys cut in the race for the pennant?

Fresno will have the same strong lineup for today's game that it had in last Sunday's victorious game with Stockton—and, but for the pitcher, in the inglorious game on Monday. Hopkins will pitch, and Hopkins has been the good-luck pitcher for Fresno all season, having won more games than any other man Fresno has had on the slab. Since last Sunday McKune has been out for practice and should be in good form today. The entire infield has been out practicing every day this week and has practiced faithfully, and unless the hoodlums that held sway on Monday last, again on hand, Fresno should give the soldiers a mighty hard tussle.

The Presidio team has twice defeated Oakland and has once defeated San Francisco, and today's game will be the first in which it has encountered one of the league top-notchers. As a matter of fact, it is regarded right now by the fans in general as the most formidable team in the league. The game today will begin promptly at 2:45 o'clock. There should be a banner attendance.

Following is the way the two clubs will be made up:

MADERA MATTERS.

H. A. Mason to Lecture on Municipal Incorporation.
MADERA, September 9.—H. A. Mason, secretary of the League of California Municipalities, the best informed man in the state upon the subject of municipal incorporation, has been secured by the Madera Board of Trade to deliver an address to the citizens of Madera on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, September 14th, in athletic hall. Mr. Mason will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of incorporation and will answer all questions regarding the matter. The board earnestly urges the attendance of the citizens of Madera. The Madera band will be in attendance.

Clyde Kauffman is in jail charged with embezzlement. James Callahan, who is doing a six months' sentence for battery, is this accused. Callahan swore to the city clerk's office that he had Kauffman embezzled a watch and chain-rocket and three rings of the value of $17. Callahan stated that he gave the jewelry to Kauffman for safe keeping. A few days ago Kauffman attempted to sell the jewelry. His defense is that Callahan owed him $5, which is denied by the latter.

THE FEDERAL COURT

MARSHAL TIMMINS ARRESTS COUNTERFEITER.

Session of United States District Court Opens in This City November 6th.

Deputy United States Marshal L. P. Timmins is back in town after an absence of most of the last two months. Friday night he came down from Ockenden with his family, who had been spending the summer there.

Last week Marshal Timmins was in Bakersfield, having been called there on a counterfeiting case. He arrested a young fellow named J. D. Butler, who had on him about $20 in counterfeit halves, quarters and nickels. The halves were fairly good, but all the work was crude in the milling. Butler was taken before the federal commissioner in Bakersfield, who held him over for examination at the sitting of the federal court at Fresno in November.

Butler stated that he had received the counterfeit money in Fresno, from a stranger, who had offered him the money to pass. No stock is taken in his story. He was formerly a telegraph operator. Hearing has been set for an argument in the United States District court in Fresno on the 4th of October. This is the suit of the Argentine Oil company against the "20" oil company for the possession of certain land in the Coalinga district. It is so improbable that Judge Wellborn will come up from Los Angeles for this one case, and it may go over to the regular session.

The regular session of the federal court for the setting of the criminal calendar will begin on the first Monday in November. The only important case is that of S. L. Hogue, charged with embezzlement, in the conduct of the local branch of the internal revenue office.

ONLY THE BEST ATTRACTIONS.

A Judicious Selection of the Greatest in the World.

It is no mere figure of speech to state that the names "Barnum & Bailey" are synonymous with the terms "biggest and best" as applied to amusement institutions. Those names at once convey the idea of the greatest show on earth and no one questions the fact that it is the standard by which all other exhibitions are measured. This is true not only in this country but also throughout the world. It is no exaggeration to state that this fact is generally recognized everywhere, and the position of the exhibition in advance of all others is quite as secure as the altitude of the Rocky mountains is superior to the height of the foothills of the Alleghenies. As is well known, Barnum & Bailey's greatest show on earth has made numerous trips to foreign lands. It has visited every one of the five continents of the world during the years it has been under the ownership and control of Mr. James A. Bailey. Its last and longest trip abroad occupied five years, during which time it exhibited both summer and winter throughout Europe. In addition to the enormous monetary consideration this trip was of incalculable value to the exhibition by reason of the fact that it made Mr. Bailey acquainted with every act, animal novelty, innovation and feature Europe possesses. Of course it is understood by all that the moment anything strange, curious, rare or valuable is produced anywhere in the world it is at once taken for exhibition to Europe first and then to America.

This personal experience of Mr. Bailey has enabled him to make the most judicious selections in everything to make up the greatest show on earth and his practically limitless capital enables him to secure features of all sorts that are simply impossible to other showmen. As manager of business policy, he would not permit any other manager to secure any sort of novelty or feature if he wanted it first. No other managers have the facilities, the experience nor the means to make first selections or outbid him. The result is an exhibition easily twice as large as any but has never been seen in this country, not excepting even the Barnum & Bailey show in former years. But the main thing to be considered is the quality of the show. It has kept pace with the increase in size and it is entirely safe to assume that no such exhibition has ever been seen in any country as the Barnum & Bailey show, which will be seen when it exhibits here on Thursday, September 14th.

BEST SUGAR FACTORY.

The meeting to be held next Thursday to discuss the proposed best sugar factory ought to be numerously attended, especially by farmers who might think of planting beets. It is impossible for a few canvassers to see everybody and explain the matter to each one separately. A meeting will accomplish the same purpose much more rapidly. Contracts are being obtained every day, but individual canvassing is too slow a method, and it will be necessary to have a good attendance at the meeting of prospective or possible beet-raisers, if the contracts requisite to secure the factory are obtained. The men behind the plan are not irresponsible promoters, but are substantial men of large capital and knowledge of the business, who will build the factory if they can get the beets.

It goes almost without saying that beet-planting and sugar manufacturing would be invaluable additions to Fresno's resources. We need diversification of products, and we need another annual crop—something that can be planted and bring a return the first year. The development of alfalfa has been very profitable, and the growing of sugar beets should add another industry equally valuable. Beets have the advantage, too, that there is no uncertainty. The crop is already sold, at a fixed price, even before the seed is planted. They also have the advantage of bringing in the money in the spring and early summer, before any other crop, and of making their demand for labor at a time when there is little other demand for it.

These are the general advantages. The particular advantages to each individual farmer depend on particular conditions, which can only be determined by separate consultation with him. But there are doubtless enough farmers properly situated to supply all the beets the factory can use, if only they and the sugar people can get together. We hope the plan will succeed.

A FOOL LEADER.

The Republican has several times called attention to the fact that the Citizens' Alliance, which might be a useful and at least need not be a foolish organization, is greatly handicapped by the personal brainlessness and incapacity of accredited leaders. The exhibition made by one Alexander, a year or so ago, is still fresh in the minds of the people of Fresno. Even the Alliance, little discrimination as it usually shows in selecting leaders, seemed to appreciate the break Alexander had made. At any rate, he was called off, and in due time a man of more intelligence and discretion was sent from Sacramento.

Now comes Herbert George, head and chief noise-maker of the Alliance on the Pacific Coast. Those who have followed the picturesque career of this man were prepared to see him make a spectacular idiot of himself, but even they are surprised at the extent of his recent outbursts. There were two breaks, one political and one personal. The political break was a letter to his Denver paper, claiming that the recent primary election in San Francisco was a contest between the unions and the Alliance, and that the Alliance cast 10,000 votes. Even if this had been true, it would have been the worst possible politics to confess it. And, not being true, it is not merely an incomprehensible boast, but a direct and gratuitous playing into the hands of the unions. Even the Chronicle found it necessary to repudiate and denounce the statement. The personal break was a silly foolish account of an alleged "mash" by himself of a girl on a ferry boat, and a dinner at the Poodle Dog afterward. This of course gave the Examiner its opening to make George ridiculous. And it is far better for a public man to be denounced than laughed at. The American sense of humor is the most fatal of weapons.

The Alliance is composed of men of standing and responsibility in the business world. They have plenty of money to hire the best of talent, and their success in their own business depends on their ability to choose men wisely for responsible services. If they are constitutionally incapable of selecting with equal wisdom, in their public and organized capacity, they would better disorganize. If they have the capacity, it is high time they were exercising it.

BALKY BANDS.

If union bands keep up the custom, illustrated in Sacramento yesterday of stopping public parades and celebrations at critical moments, because of disputes over the right of other bands to play in the same procession, it will become necessary, either not to have public parades, or to put each band under bonds to keep its contract, regardless of any conditions except the terms stated in that contract. On private occasions, if the parties to a contract have a misunderstanding they can suspend operations under the contract until some agreement is reached; but a public procession can not be stopped to discuss a private grievance. Where the convenience of thousands of spectators is involved, it is not safe to make any arrangements that are liable to a temporary hitch at the last moment. Unless bandmasters can give reasonable assurance that when their bands are engaged and paid to play they will play, parade committees can not afford to hire bands. A balky horse or an eccentric automobile may be amusing playthings for a private owner, but they would be intolerable in a public procession. Union bands must not develop the balky habit, unless they are willing to take the consequences. Union bands have of course the right to stand up for their own rights, and even if they undertake also to deny the rights of others, they are committing no worse fault than other unions in doing so. But balking and holding up processions at critical times are not going to be either popular or effective methods of exercising these rights.

FRAUD ORDERS.

The postoffice department has issued many new fraud orders, some of them marking a change or extension of policy. Here are several recent ones: New York Institute of Physicians and Surgeons, and its president, Thomas F. Adkins, of Rochester. The institute advertised a wonderful medical discovery for the cure of many diseases, but actually administered routine medical treatment combined with mental suggestions.

Specialists' Formula Company, San Francisco. This concern offered to sell information said to be exclusive, but really found in standard medical books.

R. Dyaner, New York. He advertised to repair watches cheap and kept the watches.

Dr. Amos Belt & Co., Boston; medical scheme.

Mr. A. Quintine, Waterville, Maine, who sold advice to people how to get rich quick. The advice was to borrow $500, buy an automobile for $425, invest the other $75 in gimcracks, and sell them from the auto.

Allison Information Agency and Introduction Bureau, Minneapolis, who offered introductions to rich men for $10.

F. W. Schumacher & Co., 82 Wall street, New York; fake mining stocks. These are only a few, but they range through all the classes, from the straight thief who got possession of watches and stole them, to the medical quack, who administered standard treatment or sold standard formulas, with no worse fraud than the pretense that these standard things were great and wonderful discoveries of their own. In this list are not included the various "diamond schemes," in one guise or another, which are so numerous that the government merely gets after them wholesale, wherever found. The list is an interesting exhibit of human guile and human gullibility.

The worst of all the fakes are the medical ones, because they are the ones against which the public is least able to protect itself. If a man offers to sell "the most valuable food article ever discovered" at a high price, and sends a loaf of bread, it takes only ordinary knowledge to understand the fraud. If he offers to sell the most wonderful medical discovery of the age, and sends quinine, only expert examination will show the fraud. It is for the government to provide the expert protection.

STIRRING THINGS UP.

There has probably been more departmental scandal and public graft discovered during Roosevelt's administration than in any three that preceded it. Scarcely a month passes but some new department is torn up by the roots, and ancient abuses exposed and abolished. If a hostile administration should uncover such frauds on the part of its predecessor, or if a hostile congress should prove such things on the executive, it would be regarded as the most telling partisan blow that could be administered. Even as it is, sundry yellow correspondents, who think with their memories, have been writing letters recounting the tremendous reaction that is impending against the administration by these revelations of frauds. They remember that frauds in the past have injured the administration under which they were committed, and not stopping to think, they jump at the conclusion that the same result must follow now.

But everybody that has followed things with his brains, as well as with eyes and memory, knows that President Roosevelt himself feels a real sense of triumph whenever he uncovers fraud or inefficiency in his administrative family, and that the people applaud the president at every such disclosure. For it is the toleration of wrong, not the discovery and cure of it, that disgraces. Most of these evils now being uncovered are the growth of years. Beginning in small things, they have grown through all administrations until at last an administration sufficiently vigorous to overthrow tradition has laid the axe at the root of them all. It is now demonstrated that the way to "turn the rascals out" is not to turn in the rascals of the other party, but to elect the sort of a man, of either party who will not tolerate the rascals.

The latest trouble found its culmination in the summary removal of Public Printer Palmer, day before yesterday. The government printing office is the largest printing establishment in the world. It is also the most extravagant single bureau of the government. There has been some scandal, some graft and some fraud in it, no doubt, but all the money dishonestly appropriated in it is as nothing compared with the sums wasted by inefficient organization. Not all this inefficiency was in the printery itself. Some of it was in the law, and much of it was in other government departments. But the upheaval in the printing office will make way for reform in the whole printing system. And reform is sorely needed.

If we must have prize fighting, let it be like yesterday's fighting—sharp, clean, furious, and to a finish.

SEVERE HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTING ON OUTSKIRTS OF CITY OF TANGIER

TANGIER, Sept. 9.—There has been severe hand-to-hand fighting all day in the outskirts of the city. It is thought that the casualties are heavy. Riots, recently appointed governor of several tribes between Tangier and Fez, reinforced by 500 cavalry, is endeavoring to subdue the revolting tribesmen who today burned a number of villages in the immediate vicinity of Tangier. Thousands of inhabitants of these places fled to Tangier and there is great anxiety for the safety of the town. A large force of the Sultan's troops have arrived here. It is not known whether they intend to assist or capture Raisuli, who is reported to have been dismissed from the position of governor of the district.

Conditions Worse in Baku.

TIFLIS, Sept. 9.—Reports from Baku say the conditions there have grown worse. Artillery and rifle fire continues. The troops are tired as a result of the work of the last few days and are in insufficient numbers and are unable to prevent pillage and arson which is occurring everywhere. The governor of Baku has issued orders to shoot down all incendiaries whether Tartars or others. The working people are starving.

BAKU, Sept. 9.—Plundering and incendiaries continue in the oil fields where the military has not yet re-established order but in the city quiet prevails except for occasional shots. The streets are empty and the stores are closed.

Appealing Devastation at Shusha.

TIFLIS, Caucasus, Sept. 9.—The Armenian bishop of Shusha has sent a message to the authorities here saying that the devastation at Shusha is appalling. The fighting between the Tartars and Armenians continued uninterruptedly for five days and hundreds of killed and wounded are lying in the streets. The bishop adds that the greater part of the town now consists of charred ruins, the buildings destroyed, including the government offices, churches, schools and shops. He urgently appeals for food, funds and other necessities for the starving and homeless thousands.

More Stones for Sloat Monument.

PACIFIC GROVE, Sept. 9.—The Commodore Sloat monument now has three more stones. The stones placed in position today were, first, the John Bidwell stone, contributed by the citizens of Chico, Butte county. Mrs. General Bidwell was present. The second was one in honor of Major B. F. Redding and was contributed by Mrs. General Bidwell. The third stone was in honor of William S. Green, a pioneer.

Education in Japan.

The Japanese official "White Book" records 27,136 public schools now being conducted in the empire by something over 100,000 teachers and with more than 6,000,000 pupils. This represents an enrollment of 83.26 per cent of all Japanese children of school age, and is an increase of about 33 per cent in the last decade. To a public school growth like ours the moral of such a growth is sufficiently obvious.—Boston Transcript.

Making Interested Suggestions.

When a girl begins to persuade a young man that he ought to economize she usually means that he should stop spending money for cigars and save up to buy her a diamond ring.—Detroit Free Press.

True to His Principles.

In going to the Philippines, Mr. Bryan may simply want to show Bourke Cockran that he can do it and not change his mind.—Tulsa Blade.

PLANS FOR M. E. CHURCH SOUTH

Building Committee Met With Architect Yesterday.

The members of the building committee of St. Paul's M. E. Church South, together with Pastor Kenney, Presiding Elder Moore, Judge Strother and Architect Mathewson, examined the scorched walls of the old church yesterday afternoon and discussed plans for rebuilding.

The brick walls are in good condition and will be used without alteration, except having the smoke stains washed off with acid. The basement will be restored practically as before. A different design of roof from the old one will be made.

In order to improve the acoustic properties of the auditorium, and make better use of its seating capacity, the pulpit instead of being placed in the center of the north arcade, is to be placed far to the right, with the organ in the center and the choir loft to the left. The seats in the auditorium will be placed in the various wings so as to converge toward the pulpit. The corner entrance to the church is to be enlarged.

CAUGHT BY BURNING HAY.

Teamster Injured in Falling From Farm Wagon.

A teamster on the Davis ranch near Herndon was severely injured in falling from a burning load of hay yesterday afternoon. The wagon was burned up and the horses badly scorched before they were rescued.

William Barrington, the injured man, was driving his team from the top of the load of alfalfa when he suddenly found the hay around him on fire. He started to jump off, got tangled in the reins and fell heavily to the ground, rendering him unconscious.

Benjamin Skaggs, a teamster, found the man and helped remove him to the county hospital for treatment. No explanation of the origin of the fire can be given.

Trolley Ride and Surprise Party.
 Miss Lee Bennett gave a birthday surprise party last night at her home, No. 802 Galvanova avenue, in honor of Miss Nellie Peterson and Miss Ruth Sibley of Madera. The party consisted of young ladies and they first went for a trolley ride. Returning to Miss Bennett's home they spent the evening in games and a general good time. The house had been attractively decorated in pink and green. When refreshment time came, a fortune cake caused no end of fun. Those present were: Mrs. C. W. Hobson, Miss May Klomberg, Nellie Peterson, Ruth Sibley of Madera, Myrtle McAfee of Clovis, Bertha Williams, Bessie Morgan, Florence, daughter of Clovis, Katherine and Elizabeth Bear, don of San Jose and Lee Bennett.

GROWERS' MEETING

CALLED TO CONSIDER BEET SUGAR PROJECT.

Men Back of the Industry Will Explain the Details—Canvassing Among Growers Slow Work.

The Chamber of Commerce is taking hold actively of the project to establish a beet sugar factory in this county and to interest the farmers in the production of the beets. In order to present the matter to the growers a mass meeting has been called for next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that time men who are back of the project will be here and will address the meeting, explaining the matter in detail.

It was announced yesterday the required 2500 acres must be secured within the next ten days. The promoters say they have an offer of 5000 acres in Sacramento county.

Secretary Staniford of the Chamber of Commerce has been out after contracts for the past few days. He says it is first necessary to get the farmers to understand and appreciate the project before any progress can be made. It takes too much time explaining all about it and its advantages to cover much ground. It is not like getting raisin contracts, when every grower is thoroughly familiar with the project and has his mind made up as to what to do.

Mr. Staniford believes that the whole project can be more effectively launched by a mass meeting than by any other means, and hence the call of the growers. The importance of a new crop as a new industry for Fresno county should appeal to the farmers, and they should attend the meeting.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Roy Paine is expected home on the Owl tonight.

Paul Soule will be a passenger on the Owl tonight.

Lee L. Gray will return to Fresno tonight on the Owl.

H. H. Welsh and wife returned last night on the Owl from San Francisco.

Mrs. J. E. Rutledge of the Plume town left for Portland Friday night.

Mrs. S. B. Redden returned on the Owl last night from San Francisco.

Miss Blanche Salkard of San Francisco is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Dooley.

Miss Colmore has returned after a six weeks' vacation at the home of her sister, Mrs. Burgett, at Coarse Gold. Accompanied by her sister and little nephew, Sophus Goth, she had the unique experience of a horseback trip by mountain trails into the Yosemite, and she heartily proclaims this method to be by far the most enjoyable way of making a camping trip, being free from dust, leading one through more beautiful scenery and allowing greater independence than the more common way with stages and teams over dusty wagon roads.

FELL A HUNDRED FEET.

W. O. Carter Drops Down Elevator Shaft in Interdenier Packing House.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning W. O. Carter, better known as "Buz" Carter, fell from the top of the freight elevator shaft at the J. B. Interdenier packing house and received severe injuries. His right leg was broken at the hip and six of his ribs were also broken.

Carter was employed by the Interdenier company as a machinist; it being his duty to keep the gearing and transmission gears oiled.

Yesterday morning he went to the top of the elevator shaft to oil the gears and as he reached over a chain of cogs, the sleeve of his jumper caught. He gave his arm a quick jerk to save it from being mangled and overbalanced himself, falling from the top deck. He fell about 100 feet.

At a late hour last night he was resting easy.

RETURN OF E. A. ROWE.

Home From Manila on Two Weeks Furlough.

E. A. Rowe returned last night from Manila, where he had been employed for the past year in the Internal Revenue department. He expects to stay here about two weeks as he is now on furlough and has to report at Manila by October 1st.

On his trip homeward he stopped at Japan and China and visited most points of interest there.

He has been sick very little during his time there and says that Manila is in a very sanitary condition.

On his arrival in Fresno last night he met at the train by Omar Ryan, who escorted him to the Risley home, where a surprise party, in honor of his return, was awaiting him.

FUNERAL OF LEAVITT NICHOLS.

Rev. Kenney Conducted Services in Temperance Colony.

Leavitt Nichols, who was accidentally killed by falling under a wagon, was buried from the home of his mother in Temperance colony last Friday morning. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. J. N. Kenney of Fresno. A large number of people were present, and many floral pieces told of the high esteem in which the boy was held.

Leavitt was 9 years, 1 month and 7 days old. His death is a sad loss to his family and the community. He was a bright boy, industrious, honest and obedient to his mother. The neighbors loved him for his many noble qualities and industrious habits. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family in this sad bereavement. The body was buried in Mountain View cemetery.

FIVE WITNESSES

After struggling against Bright's Disease 18 years, Mrs. Adeline Sweet of San Francisco, aged 74, was told by her doctors she could not live three days. She recovered. We asked several of the friends to attest the facts. Here they are:

San Francisco, Dec. 12, 1904.
Jno. J. Fulton Co.—Dear Sir: As requested, we visited Mrs. Adeline Sweet of 304 Carl street and found her a charming old lady, bright and sunny, her every word carrying conviction. She suffered with Bright's Disease over eighteen years and had been under the care of the best physicians, including Drs. Monahan and Irvine of Minneapolis and several here.

Early in November, 1902, they decided she could not live three days. Her next-door neighbor, Mr. J. A. Eveleth, president of the Eveleth-Nash Fruit Co., procured Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's Disease and insisted upon her taking it. She commenced to rally, and is today a living testimonial to the value of this life-saving compound. She took a course of it, and although 74 years of age she is now well enough to visit friends, assist in the housekeeping and can do her own shopping. She closed, "I hope my story will reach and impress many suffering ones." Facts certified and approved by DARKNESS STOPS GAME AT END OF THE FIFTEENTH.

Oakland Twice Defeated the Angels, and Seattle Outbats and Outfields Tacoma's Tigers.

PORTLAND, Sept. 9.—Portland's error in the ninth, when San Francisco's pitcher, who tied the score, was responsible for the result of today's game. After the ninth neither side was able to score and the game was discontinued in the fifteenth on account of darkness. Score: R. H. E. San Francisco.....7 8 2 Portland.....7 12 7

Batteries—Wheeler, Whalen, Shea and Wilson; Corbett, Jones and Conrad. Umpire, Perrine.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Oakland put a double twist on Los Angeles today. In the forenoon Morley's men were given a string of ciphers, the pitching of Iburg being the main obstacle to run getting. In the afternoon the first inning gave indications of a Southern victory when three hits resulted in a couple of runs, but in the sixth three Oaklanders made the circuit on a combination in which only one run figured and Los Angeles could not recover the lead. The losers put up a miserable fielding game.

Morning game: R. H. E. Los Angeles.....4 4 1 Oakland.....4 6 1
Batteries—Gray and Eager; Iburg and Byrne.
Afternoon game: R. H. E. Los Angeles.....2 5 7 Oakland.....4 8 4
Batteries—W. Hall and Spies; Schmidt and Stanley. Umpire, Christie.
SEATTLE, Sept. 9.—Seattle out-batted the Tigers today and won the game 1 to 1. Fisher's men not only could not hit, but their fielding was very bad. McLaughlin dropped a fly in left. Truck Egan was uncertain on ground balls and Norkye was up in the air during the whole game. Score: R. H. E. Seattle.....5 11 4 Tacoma.....1 3 3
Batteries—C. Hall and Blankenship; Brown and Graham. Umpires, Pray and Hogan.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—By opportune hitting Chicago defeated Cleveland today. Score: R. H. E. Chicago.....5 8 1 Cleveland.....2 5 2
Batteries—Walsh and Sullivan; Joss and Clark.

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—Donovan's pitching was too much for St. Louis and he would have shut them out but for an error. Detroit knocked Buchanan out in one inning. Attendance 3500.
Score: R. H. E. Detroit.....5 9 4 St. Louis.....1 3 3
Batteries—Donovan and Warner; Buchanan and Roth.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Townsend was substituted for Hughes in the ninth today after the latter had been hit for two three-baggers, and his wildness enabled Boston to win the game. Score: R. H. E. Boston.....7 12 2 Washington.....7 11 2
Batteries—Tannhill, Winter and Armbruster; Hughes, Townsend and Heydon.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Philadelphia won the first game and tied with New York in a double header. Attendance 29,000. Score, first game: R. H. E. Philadelphia.....6 10 2 New York.....7 9 3
Second game: R. H. E. Philadelphia.....7 10 0 New York.....7 9 3

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—Pittsburgh, with a heavy batting streak, held Cincinnati beaten from the start. Leever did not give a hit until the fifth inning. Attendance, 4900. Score: R. H. E. Pittsburgh.....12 19 1 Cincinnati.....5 8 2
Batteries—Leever and Gibson; Ewing and Schell. Umpire, Bauserman.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Philadelphia took both games of a double header from Boston. Attendance 400. Score, first game: R. H. E. Philadelphia.....4 8 2 Boston.....2 4 2 Batteries—Nicholas and Dooin; Young and Moran. Umpires, Abbott and Wilhelm.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—By batting McGinty freely in the eighth the Brooklyn won the second game of a double header with New York today. New York won the first game by a batting rally in the eighth. Attendance 19,000. Score, first game: R. H. E. Brooklyn.....2 9 2 New York.....4 9 2
Batteries—Fasson and Ritter; Taylor and Bresnahan.

Second game: R. H. E. Brooklyn.....6 11 2 New York.....5 10 1
Batteries—Stricklett and Bergen; Ames and McGinty and Bowerman. Umpire, O'Day.

NELSON THE CHAMPION

ances of a frontier mining camp or the immediate vicinity of a circus. Taking advantage of the fact that they were outside the city and county of San Francisco, and across the border line of San Mateo county, gambling sharps operated games of infinite variety. As is usual with great sporting events, there came a crowd of hangers on, and these large, that inside and these freely played the games. Thousands of dollars changed hands as a result. On many of the roulette and faro tables hundreds of dollars were stacked up in coin, in plain view of the crowd.

A number of games were conducted by women who reaped a rich harvest on the percentages and games named them.

New Fight Seers Came. Almost every automobile in San Francisco had been engaged to bring parties of sight seeing men over the border twelve miles of a bad piece of road as could be imagined. Improvised garages outside the arena were filled with machines, while hastily erected stable sheds housed every sort of equipage. Several tallyho parties lent a spectacular feature to the arrivals of sportsmen well known in exclusive Pacific Coast social circles.

Large delegations of ring followers came from all the large cities of the Coast and numerous Eastern points. Special cars brought the leading sportsmen of Kansas City, Butte, Salt Lake City, Goldfield and Reno, Nevada, and Pacific Coast points, including Los Angeles, Portland, Sacramento, Seattle and Spokane.

Prepared to Keep Order. Elaborate preparations had been made to preserve order both outside and inside the arena. Officers from San Francisco detective agencies as well as San Mateo county constables, were much in evidence. There was no disorder outside and inside it was as quiet and calm as a camp meeting. Everyone was in a good humor, sat about eating luncheons from boxes and wondering what would happen.

Ushers Are Rattled. The main portion of the crowd did not come in until 1 o'clock. At that hour they poured in through the gates in numbers sufficient to keep the ticket handlers very busy. They formed in long lines outside and pushed and crowded until all was confusion. Finally the special police managed to get the eager enthusiasts into line and they got inside the gates. When they did enter the arena the ushers became rattled and there were many complaints from persons who could not get their seats. The aisles became so badly congested that it was difficult for any one to move about.

A Fight or a Shooting Scrape. The first question asked as the men surged through the gates was, "Who is going to be the referee?" When they found that question was still in the air and there was a prospect of a deadlock, it was freely expressed that "there would be a fight or a shooting scrape" and that they would get the referee's name.

This uncertainty as to whether there would be a fight at all and the still greater uncertainty as to the squareness of the contest should it occur, practically brought betting to a standstill. The pool room concession inside the grounds had made elaborate preparations to handle the big crowd of bettors, but no business was done, although odds of 10 to 1 were offered, with Britt the favorite.

The tenth and eleventh were also Nelson's, his determination wearing Britt down. The twelfth was Britt's, who, rallying suddenly, battered his man for full two minutes. Nelson covered his jaw and took most of the blows on the nose, head or stomach. Britt wore himself out and finished the round tired. It became evident to Britt's seconds after the twelfth that their man was being beaten. This thought was confirmed by his wavering confidence between rounds with the light-hearted remarks of how Britt was beating Nelson to pieces.

"Why, he is slowing up in every round," said Kelly.

"Sure he is," echoed Kreling, as they worked over their charge.

Britt, however, appeared to realize that he was beaten.

In the thirteenth he took a beating. Willie Britt, his brother, seeing the way it was going, shouted "Out, come Jimmie, out, come Jimmie! Don't let him out, come you!" Jimmie's gameness was the striking feature of the round.

Most Sensational Round. The fourteenth must be set down as the most sensational of a most remarkable fight. Nelson, knowing Britt was tiring fast, held before him the determination to end the battle. In five seconds he had Britt staggering around, his guard lowered and all but out. Time again Nelson planned his left hand blow on Britt's face that drove him helplessly against the ropes.

Over eagerness on Nelson's part is all that prolonged the fight beyond this round. Seeing his brother beaten down, Willie Britt shouted above the roar of the crowd, "Swing, Jimmie, swing!" Over and over again he repeated the word, "Swing," until Jimmie's tired hand grasped it. Setting himself to meet Nelson, Britt swung his right hand with all the remaining strength in his body. The blow landed. Nelson was not only stopped for the moment, but forced to give ground. Britt saw his advantage and pressed it. With his feet set back he came forward and with a powerful blow he drove Nelson back to the ropes. Nelson, however, showed no disposition to take advantage of Britt's distressful condition, and awaited the end at the other side of the ring. "Ten," shouted the timer. Grancy pointed at Nelson and the roar from the crowd increased.

Spectators Rush Into Ring. Then there was the usual rush of spectators into the ring, most of them eager to get close to the new champion. A few minutes later, however, the gates closed and Britt, who still lay gasping for breath, finally recovered sufficiently to regain his feet and was led from the ring by his seconds.

Nelson remained inside the ropes several minutes longer, before he was backed away from the crowd. He walked rapidly out of the arena and then ran to his quarters, where he was surrounded by a throng of admirers.

With the disappearance of the fighters the interest waned and the crowd broke for the electric cars, steam trains, automobiles and driving rigs that were waiting by hundreds.

Crowd an Orderly One. Contrary to general expectations the crowd of 9500 men and a score of women at the ringside was a most orderly one. The peculiar actions of Nelson's manager, which left the public in doubt as to the referee up to the last minute, probably is responsible for the crowd falling below expectations and made the total receipts about $60,000 instead of $75,000 or $80,000.

Referee Grancy caused much surprise after he had been chosen to act by declaring all bets off. Subsequently he gave out to the newspaper men, but not to the crowd, that the bets made after his acceptance would stand. This was about 12:35 o'clock, which was an important point to bettors who posted their bets on Britt's price or subsequent to Grancy's declaration.

HORACE GREELEY

BY SAVOYARD.

James Parton characterized Horace Greeley as the first citizen of New York and the most influential man in America. He was our greatest journalist, and made more public opinion than any other man of his generation. He was a genius and a self-made man, and his career was most wonderful. He was full of contradictions, sagacious and credulous, liberal and prejudiced. He was a shrewd judge of men and a constant victim of adventurers and fakirs. He had the best and the biggest heart in the world, and the bravest spirit. He founded the New York Tribune and was its editor for thirty years, and from the day he began until he ceased to control its political policy it was the most powerful organ of public opinion in the United States, if not in the world.

His end was the saddest of all, more pathetic than Garfield's even, and he died a raving maniac in a madhouse. Zachariah Greeley was a New Hampshire farmer, a Scotch-Irishman, whose life was spent in toil and poverty. His wife was an extraordinary woman, mentally, morally and physically. She loved work and was over cheerful during a life of hardship and misfortune. Horace Greeley was her third child, and in his infancy he gave promise of the genius that made the Tribune the mighty force it became.

Born in 1811, Horace Greeley didn't recollect a time when he could not read, and when a small boy he could read with the printed page in any position, upside down as well as right side up. At six he was the best speller in the community, and at twelve he was the best informed individual in the community. At sixteen he was the ablest disputant in the community. He was industrious from his cradle and loved all sorts of books, plays in fact and mental. He cared nothing for luxuries or other material. His food was the coarsest and his dress the shabbiest. He lived in the past and in the future as well as in the present. Absorbed in a book, he forgot to eat, but never neglected a chore, and no ridicule made him ashamed of his mean garb.

It was the dream and the ambition of the child to be a printer, and when fifteen he entered the office of the Northern Spectator, at East Albany, N. Y., as an apprentice. He was a printer from the beginning. He did not have to learn the craft. He was born to it, as the musician to his instrument, as the bird to its song. In a few days he was a better printer than other boys who had served years, and the day he entered the office he was a better journalist than the editor. A little while and he began to write for the paper, and already he was the ablest and best informed politician in the community.

Far apart to steady himself once more he met Nelson with full arm swings, finally forcing the Dane to clinch. The gong sounded the end of the round while they were standing head to head, slashing at each other with both hands. Ten thousand men rose in their seats and cheered the boxers.

The Fatal Eighteenth. The desperate fighting in the fourteenth compelled both men to slow up in the next two succeeding rounds and no decisive work was done by either in the fifteenth or sixteenth, though Nelson showed more strength whenever they came to a clinch. The seventeenth was Nelson's by a good margin. The eighteenth proved the end for Britt. A detailed account of the round, which lasted about two minutes, shows little difference from the others. Britt was tired, but game and willing. Nelson forced him about, taking and giving him body blows and always boring in. He cornered Britt and drove him against the ropes. Britt squirmed out and sent in a terrific left to the stomach that appeared to hurt Nelson. Nelson covered up his body and Britt swung for his face. Quick as a flash Nelson sent in a short, sharp left hand blow that took Britt squarely in the stomach. He fell, but got up and continued the fight.

When Britt fell in his own corner fat on his face, there was a momentary hush and the voice of the official timer was heard distinctly counting off the seconds. Britt managed to turn on his back and lay gasping. His bloody tongue protruding from his mouth. Five seconds had passed before he was up, when there was a roar from the crowd, which saw that the little San Franciscoer could not rise in time. "Six, seven, eight, nine," called out Timer Harling, while Referee Grancy danced in front of Nelson to keep him away. Nelson, however, showed no disposition to take advantage of Britt's distressful condition, and awaited the end at the other side of the ring. "Ten," shouted the timer. Grancy pointed at Nelson and the roar from the crowd increased.

Spectators Rush Into Ring. Then there was the usual rush of spectators into the ring, most of them eager to get close to the new champion. A few minutes later, however, the gates closed and Britt, who still lay gasping for breath, finally recovered sufficiently to regain his feet and was led from the ring by his seconds.

Greeley continued with the Northern Spectator until it died, in the fifth year of his apprenticeship. Meanwhile, his father had moved to Pennsylvania and settled near Erie. The boy religiously sent his wage of $40 per annum to the family to help pay for their new home. It was for this that he wore the coarsest garb; for this he went without an overcoat in the surly blast of Vermont winters. When the Spectator suspended, Horace tramped to his father's new home and, after a time, was employed as a compositor in a newspaper office at Erie. He was there seven months and all his wage except $15 he gave to his father. Then he made his way to New York City, and there he became a journeyman printer.

Greeley when yet a child was a politician and a partisan of John Quincy Adams. Like Thurlow Weed and William H. Seward, he was an anti-Mason, and violent in his opposition to the convention. In his case it was a case of conviction. Weed, certainly, and Seward, probably, were anti-Masons as the result of deliberate calculation. As a printer, Greeley prospered—that is, he made a living and saved a little. He was industrious and frugal. His wants were few and he had no vanities. It is a curious fact that one day when both were obscure and struggling young men, James Gordon Bennett called on Horace Greeley and, exhibiting a fifty-dollar bill as a cash capital, invited him to join in setting up a new daily newspaper, the New York Herald.

In 1834 Greeley established a weekly newspaper, the New Yorker, and Parton, an excellent judge, pronounced it incomparably the best newspaper of its kind that had ever been published in this country. It never prospered and at the end of seven years was merged with the Tribune. In 1838 Greeley became the editor of the Jeffersonian, a Whig paper established at Albany during the campaign that resulted in the election of William H. Seward as governor of New York. The Jeffersonian made Greeley a prominent figure in political affairs. Though only twenty-seven, he was recognized as one of the strongest political writers in the Empire State, and two years later he was selected to edit the Log Cabin, the great Whig campaign paper of 1840. The election that year carried joy and exultation to every Whig heart, and Horace Greeley, not yet thirty years old, contributed as greatly to the results as any other individual in America.

PIT TRADERS ARE SELLERS

THE WEATHER CONDITIONS CAUSE THEM TO UNLOAD.

Commission Houses Buy Actively and Market is Firm—The Markets in General.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The market for wheat opened easier with December off at 82½c to 83c. Dry weather throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas was the main cause of the slight initial decline. As a result of improved weather conditions it was claimed that arrival of new wheat at Minneapolis on Monday would show an enormous increase, one estimate placing the receipts at 300 carloads. Under the stimulus of such advice pit traders were sellers during the entire session. Early in the day buyers were comparatively few. Commission houses later became quite active purchasers. The market for a time showed considerable firmness. The principal source of strength lay in large export business reported at the seaboard. The Michigan crop report was a bearish factor in the reaction. The wheat yield of that state is estimated at 19,000,000 bushels against 6,000,000 bushels last year. The market closed easy with December at 82½c.

Sentiment in the corn pit was bearish as a result of the good weather for the maturing of the crop. At the close prices were at the lowest of the day with December at 43½c.

A liberal increase in local receipts caused some weakness in the oats market. December closed at 27½c, a net decline of ¼c.

Provisions were steady on a 5@10c advance in the price of live hogs. At the close October pork was up 5c, lard was a shade lower and ribs were 7½@10c higher.

Dried Fruit Prices. NEW YORK.—Evaporated apples unchanged. Common to good 4½@6c; prime 7½c; choice 7½c; fancy 8c. Prunes quiet, unchanged 4½ to 7½c, according to grade.

Appricots quiet, unchanged. Choice 8½c, extra choice 7½@8½c and fancy 9½@10c.

Peaches in very little supply with fancy firm at 11½c.

Raisins are said to be very high on the coast but prices are beyond the news of most eastern buyers. Loose muscatels 5½@7½c; seeded raisins 5½@6½c; London layers 6½@11½c.

A curious exhibition that has been drawing crowds in London has been the display of the models of the Japanese fleet, contributed by the makers of the ships that were built in England. A working model of the Russian navy might be contributed by the junk dealers.

ONE MAN'S SAY.

BY HENRY HAWSON.

Dyspeptic professors and writers of sensational magazine articles to the contrary notwithstanding, the world is growing better.

The conclusion is not arrived at by reading newspapers. A steady course of that kind of literary pabulum would lead to a contrary dictum, for it is remarkable how many of the people who come into public notice through the medium of press dispatches are either guilty, or suspected, of crime and how few of those who are given credit for admirable qualities are not dead. If a perusal of the columns of a yellow newspaper does not lead the average man to conclude that nearly every other man is a liar or a thief, and if a study of the obituary notices does not force the conclusion that all the good men are dying off—well, it is because the reader has an abiding faith in the goodness of the world and its people.

When affirmative evidence, calculated to encourage a more hopeful view is obtainable, it would be a wrong against the community not to publish it. Such information is in my possession and because of a desire to share my optimistic opinion of the world's improvement I will give some of it publicly.

First, to lay the premise, it may be well to say that the proof of the existence in this great country of one hundred men and women of every virtue and absolutely "warranted free from vice" ought to be regarded as pretty conclusive evidence that there is a steady progression toward improvement. That the world is growing better. For in our schooldays we were taught that perfection was well nigh unattainable and our experience in the world has since convinced most of us that that teaching was at least a nearly correct one. One hundred men or women scattered throughout the United States, irrespective of geographical considerations, who, according to the best obtainable testimony—their own—are little less than perfect. Their letters furnish the documentary proof thereof. They can be produced. Surely this heaven of perfection is something to be thankful for. And it is growing for week by week there are others who proclaim themselves similarly blessed with admirable qualities and destitute of drawbacks.

Read some of these modest statements of individual excellence and then say whether the assumption of the betterment of the race is not warranted.

Here, for instance, is an angel, no less, in Missouri. She says:

"I am five feet one inch high, weigh 135 pounds. My home is in the northwestern part of Missouri, and like all the rest of the Missouri girls, of the majority, I have a complexion which is generally termed peachy, meaning of course, pink cheeks and lips and very white forehead and chin. I am eighteen years old; my education is nearing its completion, as far as schools are concerned. I have not taken much interest in the piano, as I have paid more particular attention to the cultivation of my voice, mastering the violin, which, by the way, is my favorite instrument. Would like to correspond with a young man of twenty or twenty-five."

A goddess! Who believes that Missouri is going to the bottom? Joe Folk would have us believe? There is no danger of bad men ruining a state which contains within its borders such peaches as this. Generous to a fault too. Not claiming for herself a monopoly of those charms which make the average man desirous of better acquaintance. Her sisters in Missouri, "or the majority" are equally favored.

Here is another who writes from Kansas. Think of it! In the land of cyclones. A lovely young thing of thirty-three, of spotless reputation, longing for company. It's not right. Her testimony is:

"I would be pleased to have a nice correspondent. Am a lady of thirty-three years, of spotless reputation, and would be glad to hear from any gentleman of about the same age and views. Am rather youthful looking for my age, always having taken care of myself and kept from all kinds of dissipation, from childhood, which I am very glad. I love to work at home and make the house a place of beauty as well as a place of comfort and recreation. Am very fond of music and painting. Have dabbled a little in art work, that every one who wishes to be accomplished should be able to do."

She has kept from all kinds of dissipation from childhood, and does not regret it. Even chewing gum, it is safe to wager, has never been one of her failings, while as for a real ice cream "sprue"—banish the idea. We, also, dear youthful looking thirty-three, share your gladness that your path has been one of conscious rectitude. For that we can forgive much, yes, even that you have dabbled, little or much, in art work. Can Kansas raise a lady of this age, of such women, working and patiently waiting, ready to go and dare? Truly, what is the matter with Kansas? Down in the Sunny South, of course, beauty is common. That it is usually allied with modesty may or may not be a fallacy. At least much may be forgiven the young who has such charms as the one who writes:

"I am a most beautiful maiden of twenty-three summers, and as I am so very particular have found one yet that I cared to say yes to. I have black hair, blue eyes, and a fair complexion; dimples, and also one in my chin. I weigh about 140 pounds, and my height is five feet six inches. I live in the country, a mile from town. We have an automobile, and we go to town whenever we wish. I have several good offers standing, but as I am not satisfied yet, will wait until I hear from someone else."

Beauty? Well it poets' ravings count for aught, here is a dream of loveliness. Those dimples settle it. Surely this damsel's time of waiting cannot be long. Rapid as the auto's speed should be the answer. Kentucky is not falling behind the procession if this be a fair sample of her productions in the line of goodness.

Out in the Far West, too, they are to be found. The perfectly adorable members of the adorable sex. "Age cannot wither" etc., for here's the proof: "I am a widow seventy-four years old and five feet two inches in height; have gray eyes and hair to match; am kind and loving; I am very spry for one of my age; no one takes me for over sixty. Would like a kind and loving husband near my age, and one that lives in Washington State, if possible. I am true American, instant, of spotless character; would like a man of some means."

How's that for Washington? Spry? Why, bless your dear old heart, you kind and loving little, septuagenarian, how comes it that you have yourself to proclaim your virtues to an unfeeling world? When is the big brood shouldered son, or, grandson, who should be tooting your horn as the best and dearest the sun ever shone upon? No, indeed, no one would take this gray-haired candidate for matrimony for over sixty. But who can be pessimistic regarding the fate of a nation, or of a world, leavened by this spirit of "Never say die?"

Next we have an Ohio young woman who has unaccountably been overlooked for eight years or more past the marrying age. Her character is beyond question—note the reference. Her personal appearance is not forbidding and her modesty forbids her saying all that might be said of her "form." Read for yourself:

"I am a dressmaker, twenty-six years old, and in a little country place where the girls marry at eighteen, or even younger. As to my character, will say for the Order of Eastern Star. As for my disposition, I am hardly the one to say about that, only I think I could make home a happy place to the right man. As for my personal appearance, suppose that is all a matter of taste. I have brown eyes and very nearly red hair; am about five feet six inches in height, weigh 140 pounds, and can say without boasting that I have a very good form."

Here is an Illinois widow whose appearance possibly is no plainer than her meaning. Please note that she is left without support and three beautiful children. Perhaps she means with the children.

"A respectable widow of forty-five, left without means of support and three beautiful children, would like to marry again. Am a Christian, neat and a good housekeeper. From the Quaker state there comes this tempting offering: "I am nineteen years of age, five feet and a half tall, light complexioned and have light brown hair. I am a dressmaker by trade and have taken a course in music. My father is a farmer. I remain at home during the summer months and help my mother with the work. We live in a small village and would like very much to correspond with a refined young man, as I have always put forth every effort to make myself attractive and respectable."

Please overlook the "completed" in consideration of her efforts otherwise to make herself attractive.

But after all, the fate of the nation depends largely upon its men. Given plenty of good, virile, active, moral, loving and well principled men and the country is safe. Here are a score or more all answering to the description. Some better than others but all good and all desirable. To pick at random from half a hundred of them.

From Missouri we have one who certainly ought to meet the peachy complexioned young lady we heard from earlier. He puts it up like this:

"A refined young gentleman of good moral character and spotless reputation, with blue eyes, black curly hair, six feet one inch high, weight of 165 pounds, and twenty-one years old. Would like to correspond with some lady not over twenty-five years old, who is looking for a nice home."

Alabama offers:

"I am twenty years old; I am five feet and two inches high; I am fair skin and brown eyes and light hair; I do not drink whisky; I do not gamble; I am trying to live a Christian life and would like some one to keep house for me."

Possibly open to the objection of being a great "I am," but think of the virtues! Truly the South is not in danger.

"I am a bachelor, fifty-nine years old, five feet ten inches tall, weigh 175 pounds, blue eyes and gray hair; do not use tea, coffee nor tobacco in any form. Temperate, Protestant, farmer, have owned the west for four years of land including housework, for the last ten years; have $1,000 insurance on my life, and would marry by mutual agreement."—Michigan.

"My age is twenty-six, of spotless reputation; height, five feet eight inches weight, 137; dark blue eyes, dark hair, quiet disposition, light complexion, fairly well educated, am sober, honest and industrious; am a Christian, kind and sympathetic. Would like to correspond with some young lady matrimonially inclined."—Iowa.

Here's an old boy in Bryan's state who has endured the dangers and trials of war and two marriages and is still undaunted. Who says courage is dying?

"My age, seventy years; am an old soldier; use no liquor or tobacco; height, five feet ten inches; weight, 160; have gray eyes, fair complexion, good health; have buried two good women; have no children; I draw a pension of twelve dollars per month; am liable to get an increase of pension soon. I would like a good wife."

And from the Lone Star state there comes assurance that not all the men love "red-eye," for this man says:

"I am not rich, but a plain, practical farmer and stock raiser, away out in the bright, sunny Texas, who has all the necessities and some of the luxuries of life. I am strictly temperate; I do not use whisky or tobacco in any form; I never was under the influence of whisky in my life. I am a great lover of a bright, happy home, with its pleasures and joys, for it is there I spend my happiest hours. I would feel honored by a correspondent."

Michigan raises a paragon of all the virtues who is hard to suit but not lacking in opportunities:

"I am a young man of twenty-one and hold a position in one of the railroad offices. Of course there are quite a few young ladies in my town that I could have, but I have not got those that suit me yet, and it would be better not to be married at all than to be married and not be satisfied. As to my character, I can give the best of references, if necessary. Would like to correspond with young lady of eighteen."

How is this Wyoming boomer who realizes the value of a good farming country and has an eye also for the beauties of nature? "I am a farmer, and during the late war was in Cuba and a scout in the Philippines. I am five feet eight inches, light hair, blue eyes, speak Spanish. We have a splendid farming country here, and people are just beginning to find it out. Corn, oats, wheat, potatoes do well. At present there are miles of flowers dotting the ground in every direction."

This one is different. He wants a wife "very bad"—and lives in Maine: "I am twenty-six years old, of good standing and with a wife to make a living for me. I have a very nice home and I need a wife very bad. I am not hunting money, but a true-hearted wife. I hope some good, stout girl between the age of eighteen and twenty-three will write to me."

in desirable parts either, for here is one who says:

"I am a young man twenty-three years of age, good salary and position, fear God and can lift a hundred and eighty pounds and would like to correspond with young lady who would like a steady man in every sense of the word, although very jolly, lovable disposition and one who would do his part to make a good, kind and true husband." With all these and nearly 100 more, ready at hand to answer any call of love or duty, who can be fearful that the world is retrograding!

LATON.

Miss Irene Blanchard and Miss Laura Main went to Fresno on Saturday morning's train to see "Mrs. Wiggs" at the Barton.

Constable John Studt and Fred Ranscher drove to Lemoore Tuesday on a business and pleasure trip combined.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turner returned on Sunday from a two weeks' visit to the Portland fair. They report a most enjoyable trip, including a steamboat ride to the Dalles of the Columbia river and a brief stop over at Mt. St. Helens where John made an unsuccessful attempt to drink the springs dry.

One of Laton's electric air lights took fire and burned out completely, making a brilliant display of fireworks during the process. Local Manager Spike says that a big fat, juicy bug furnished the cross connection that did the business.

Mrs. H. L. Ward returned on Thursday from a two months' vacation spent at San Francisco and points around the bay.

T. M. Marshall of Olander, who has been engaged as principal of the Laton high school, was in town on Thursday and Friday arranging a course of study with the trustees and making general arrangements for the opening of the school on the 15th inst.

Misses Fay, Opal and Madeline Goddard of Fresno were visiting friends in Laton and attending the picnic this week.

Sam Dalton, who has been connected with the Santa Fe station here for several years, left on Friday morning for San Francisco where he expects to secure a position. Sam has many friends in Laton and vicinity who are sorry to have him leave.

L. B. DeHart is just completing a very pretty cottage residence on his farm west of Laton. It is to be noted that some of the houses recently built on outside lands are rather a better class than most of the houses in town.

Mr. J. Wilburn Egan, who had been lecturing in Texas during the summer under the auspices of the Christian church, returned to his home in Laton on Saturday last, and will spend a few weeks with his family.

The Laton Sunday school, which has been having a short vacation during the last month, resumed regular sessions last Sunday. Mr. W. E. G. Saunders was elected as superintendent to fill the place made vacant by the departure of Mrs. Chaplin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. G. Saunders and Masters George and Ewart went to Fresno in the auto on Saturday evening to attend the performance of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." They returned to Laton during the night.

Mr. S. H. Wooley brought in a fine specimen of hops on Tuesday, grown on his ranch just east of town. Years ago hops were successfully grown on the Laguna and all that is needed to revive this important industry is somebody that knows how to handle them.

J. Q. Hancock shipped three carloads of hops from Lillis to Los Angeles on Wednesday.

On Thursday there was unloaded at Laton a fine bell for the new school house in the North Fork district, ten mile west of town. This makes three school bells on the Laguna with another ordered but not arrived yet. If any of the defunct tribe of old Tache should arise from their graves on the banks of the Kings river they would doubtless take to the woods in fright at the sights and sounds of modern civilization in the domain where they dug grass nuts and pounded acorns.

Justice N. G. Smith held court on Tuesday to examine Lester Rodgers and A. J. Rhoades of Lemoore, who were arrested for selling fish unlawfully.

The picnic of the Laton Sunday school on Wednesday was attended by a good number of the children and many of their parents and friends. The afternoon was pleasantly passed under the shady trees on the bank of the river. There was no end of watermelons, and well filled lunch baskets on tap and a general good time was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. G. L. Doolittle, a farmer residing two miles west of Laton, was seriously injured on Tuesday. Falling to come to the house at noon search was made and he was found in the field where he had been plowing, with a gaping wound in his temple and in a semi-conscious state, from which it was found impossible to arouse him. As he was alone in the field it cannot be ascertained just what happened to him, but it is supposed that he was kicked by one of the horses. Dr. Harwood attended the case and holds out very little hope of recovery, but in consultation with Dr. Davidson of Fresno it was decided to remove the wounded man to Fresno, where he could be operated upon, which was accordingly done on Wednesday night. At last accounts Mr. Doolittle was reported as being from a two months' absence, most of which he spent in working his mine on Kaiser mountain in the Sierras, about twenty five miles back of Shaver Lake. Mr. Ward has been doing assessment work on this mine for several years and the prospects were such that he felt justified in putting in considerable development work this season. The results indicate that he has a fine property, which will pay to work when he can get the necessary machinery back to do it.

The Laguna has an amateur Luther Burbank in the person of A. Fike, a progressive farmer, living three miles west of Laton. Mr. Fike has by careful breeding and selection produced a new type of onion, which bids fair to excel any variety grown in this part of the state. It is a cross between the Brown Globe and Silverskin varieties and is a large white onion of surpassing density and keeping qualities, which is so evidently superior to other onions that it would sell them all. He has been over two years perfecting the onion of the two kinds and now has about two pounds of pure seed which he will plant next season for a crop. Mr. Fike has grown one hundred sacks of onions from a little over one-half acre of his land this season and is thoroughly versed in onion culture.

C. L. Segmeyer of Topeka, Kansas, representing the Santa Fe industrial department, and George Standiford of the Fresno chamber of commerce, were in town on Thursday.

Grant Fox, representing the firm known as the Pacific Steel & Wire Co., was in town last week.

The Emmons office is in possession of tracts. They have appointed Monday, September 11th at 10 a. m. for a meeting at Laton when they will explain the situation to as many as will attend and afford an opportunity to sign up contracts.

Laton, September 8, 1905.

FOWLER.

There was mutiny in the camp of Mitchell & Mitchell the green grape packers of Fresno, who are doing business in the Nelson warehouse here. Wednesday afternoon when the two dozen or more girls who are working there received their checks for the first week's work. The eruption arose from the question of wages. The girls had gone to work with the understanding that they were to receive $1.50 per day, but when they received their checks they lacked three dollars each of making good for the first week. They were entered into a whispered and excited conference at the conclusion of which they called upon the "boss" with one accord for an explanation. The explanation was that the girls were inexperienced in the business and it required about two days in which to learn the art. This was not very satisfactory, among the girls as no such suggestion had been made when they were first employed and they discussed the question about the streets with much animation and spoke of organizing a union; of going on a strike and various other desperate means. How the question was finally settled has not been learned, but most of the girls were at work packing grapes the next day, so it is understood that a satisfactory adjustment has been made.

After considerable discussion, scores of communications from other companies, many meetings of various descriptions and much persistent work the Fowler Telephone Company is no longer a mere subject for discussion, but is at last an actual reality. The idea of a local telephone company was originated about six months ago by Dr. W. C. Crawford, who came from Pennsylvania, where that system is very much in use. After considerable agitation on the part of the doctor and Howard Harris, the company was at last organized and a few weeks ago was incorporated. R. E. Reid was employed as superintendent of construction and bids are being received for the care of the switch board. Several hundred poles and a large number of lines have been purchased and Superintendent Reid, with a crew of workmen is now engaged in the construction of the lines and it will be only a few weeks until the whole country will be in communication under the new telephone system.

The plans and specifications for a two-story brick building which the Old Fellowship Building association proposes to erect in the near future, have been completed. The ground for the new building will have a 75-foot front and join the First National bank building. The second story will cover the entire building as was planned at the time the bank building was erected. There will be three store rooms on the ground floor; a hall, banquet hall and office rooms on the second floor. This building will be quite an improvement for the town of Fowler, and will also add much to the appearance of the block. It is expected that the construction of the new building may begin any time in the near future.

The Manley Burnett warehouse which has been under construction at the rear of the Manley Burnett Co's store has been completed and adds much space and convenience to the store. The room is 30 feet square and the building is constructed of corrugated iron.

The Fowler Union High school opened Monday morning for the beginning of the new year's work, with Prof. J. N. Kerran as principal, and Miss Brown and Miss Peters as assistants.

Prof. Kerran and Miss Brown occupy the same positions as last year but Miss Peters, who comes from Los Angeles, takes the place of Miss Cooke, who was accepted as principal. There were forty-five pupils enrolled Monday and a few more will come in next week.

Until the warm weather is over the school will open at 8 o'clock and close at 12:30.

The Grammar school, will open next Monday with the same teaching force as last year, with the exception of Prof. Cox, who will occupy the position of principal in the place of Prof. Roegner of Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aten returned Saturday from San Mateo where Mrs. Aten has been under treatment in a private sanitarium for several weeks. Her condition is very much improved and she is enjoying good health once more.

John Finn and family returned from the Deer Creek Hot Springs Saturday after an abrupt and unpleasant ending of their outing, which was due to Mr. Finn becoming very ill. They had expected to spend several days at the springs, but Mr. Finn became sick soon after arriving and as his case became serious the doctor advised him to return upon which was accordingly done on Wednesday.

Roy Dewhurst of Fresno is employed in the office of the Kirby winery at Sierra Park vineyard.

Miss Sara Post returned from the Deer Creek Hot Springs Tuesday evening after a few weeks' pleasant outing. Charles Davis is enlarging his house by adding another story.

Wilson Griffin went to the Deer Creek Hot Springs last week and stayed several weeks at the popular resort and report a very pleasant time.

Mrs. Cole and daughter have returned from a visit to Stockton and Sacramento.

John Wilkins who has been employed at the Fowler livery stable for several months has been forced to leave the stable on account of his health, and will engage in other business that will be more suitable.

Sam Ellis, who has been employed at the store of M. Brady & Co. for the past two years, has accepted a position at Dinuba and expects to leave Fowler soon.

Mrs. Degobian, who gave birth to a child last week, is very well and hardly expected to live. The child lived only a short time.

Mrs. Mosteller has accepted a position leaving the Deer Creek stage, and will leave here soon to begin his new employment.

Mrs. Howard A. Harris, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Ellen Close, who is a visitor from New York, and her small son, Avery, returned last week from Oakland where they have been spending five weeks of the hottest weather.

Grant Fox, representing the firm known as the Pacific Steel & Wire Co., was in town last week.

The Emmons office is in possession of

CLAVIS.

J. C. Adams and family have moved into their new cottage on Fourth street. W. A. King, of San Francisco, was in town on business Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Booher have as guests this week Mr. Curtis and Mr. Ooley of Monterey county.

Otis Harwell and wife visited Dinuba last Saturday, returning Monday. They were the guests of Mrs. Harwell's brother, Rev. Alphons Booher.

James E. Turner and wife have returned from their visit in Los Angeles. Frank Parks has rented a ranch near Folsom for a year. The band boys will miss him.

Glenn and Emory Reayburn have gone to the state university.

Miss McCandless is visiting Mrs. Wellborn, and will attend the high school.

Mrs. Chas. Kuhn is home from Wheatland.

J. E. Criesman has gone to Portland.

Mrs. Criesman and her son, W. L. Grove, both of Wadley, Kansas, are here visiting the former's brother, J. S. Paul. The gentlemen came West to look for suitable locations to settle.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Scott have had as their guest this week Mr. and Mrs. James Miner of La Belle, Missouri. They expect to visit through the state and intend to be absent from home about a month.

George Golden, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Golden, left last Friday for Del Norte county, where he has a position teaching school.

Rev. and Mrs. M. H. Nelly, of Plano, Texas, who have been visiting here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Winton, are leaving for their home in Plano. They were accompanied as far as Dos Palos by Miss B. Winton, who will be absent for a few weeks, visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Pritchard drove to Fresno Monday and as they returned that night were accosted by two men, who stepped from a clump of weeds by the roadside. One of them stepped in front of the horse and told the occupants of the rig to stop. But Mr. Pritchard drew the whip and gave the horse a keen cut. The horse jumped toward the man and he was forced to retreat. By a lavish application of the whip the couple were soon at a safe distance from the intruders.

Fowler, September 8, 1905.

SELMA.

SELMA, Sept. 9.—Mrs. A. A. Rowell gave a most delightful dinner party at her home Thursday from 12 to 5 o'clock, in honor of her friend, Miss Georgia Abbott, who will soon leave for San Francisco to enter the state normal.

The home throughout was most carefully decorated with pale pink and white crepe paper and the large rooms were well adapted to the entertainment of the twenty young ladies present. The dinner, served about 1 o'clock was bountiful, though dainty in all respects. Mr. Rowell was the only gentleman present, but seemed to enjoy being the "central figure" among so many girls. The place-cards were dainty pink hearts and very pretty.

After dinner the game of "swapping" was indulged in. Each one presented had brought with her some article to swap, and at a given time all began and there was much merriment as article after article was inspected. The name of each article was written upon little cards which had been distributed before the game, and when finally the game had ended, each one was requested to write a story about such articles as she had traded for, and for the two best stories prizes were given. The first prize, a dainty bon bon dish was won by Miss Ruth Reid, whose story was in verse. Miss Grace Van Horn also wrote in verse and received the second prize. The place-cards were equally interesting forms of entertainment occupied the time until the departure of the guests. Those present were: Misses Georgia Abbott, May Brown, Nellie Rose, Chloe Good, Annie Roberts, Celeste Hansberger, Grace Van Horn, Ruth Reid, Birdie Walters, Edith Stanley, Nannie Hansberger, Hattie Stacy, and Annie Reid.

Constance M. Powell, Thursday night arrested two Japanese, K. Mori and K. Oshima, charging them with disturbing the peace. The Japs, who have been stopping here for some time, took occasion to spend the evening at the S. L. Heisinger ranch east of town and persisted in gambling and raising a rough house with their symphony. Justice Pinkley came up from Kingsburg this morning, before whom the Japs pleaded guilty and were fined $30 each, which they paid.

George W. Woods and family are up from Los Angeles and are the guests of relatives, but intend to again locate here. Mr. Woods was formerly in the drug business here, locating in Los Angeles, where he has recently sold his business in that city.

Mrs. N. W. Steward and son, Lee, are at Oakland visiting Mrs. Steward's daughter.

H. Lewald has gone to San Francisco on business, intending to return next Monday.

Joe Sweeney, the night watch, has gone to Bakersfield to be away about a week.

Walter Scott returned from San Francisco Wednesday evening.

Marshall J. L. Campbell and family came home from Santa Cruz, Wednesday.

W. R. Stammers went to San Francisco since Saturday on a business trip.

T. M. Harris took this morning from Sacramento, where he spent several days at the State Fair.

Judge E. H. Tucker returned this morning from a trip into Nevada and Inyo county, looking up mining interests. While away he located several gold mining claims in Wyman Canyon, Inyo county. He visited Reno and was absent about ten days.

Miss L. B. Brown returned to Santa Rosa this week on a visit with her brother. She will then visit several weeks in San Francisco with her daughter, Miss Daisy Goodman.

Frank W. Anderson of the Selma Fruit company returned from San Francisco this evening.

J. J. Vanderburgh and family went to San Francisco this week on a brief trip. They are located at Ocean Beach.

F. A. Howard was down from Fresno a part of this week on business.

Mrs. J. M. Leslie and daughters came home from San Francisco yesterday, after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Leslie's sister, Mrs. Phil Savage.

There will be a W. C. T. U. gold medal contest held at the J. M. Byrne store next Friday evening. The contest will be under the direction of Mrs. A. A. Rowell.

FINAL APPEAL TO SIGN UP

With Raisins on the Trays, Outsiders Must Hasten if They Would Stand by Their Fellow Growers for the Best Price Obtainable.

To the Raisin Growers in California: This final appeal is addressed to all raisin producers, including both those who have signed a contract with the California Raisin Growers' Company and those who for sundry reasons, are yet hesitating in the matter of joining their fellow growers in an effort to establish the raisin industry on a sound basis.

The conditions facing the growers today, it is safe to say, are more attractive than those existing at any time in the past history of the raisin industry. Never before has such a large body of representative growers, from widely scattered geographical districts, been on a board of control where it necessitated the combined wisdom of all to enact any important legislation concerning the welfare of the growers.

This plan is a radical departure from all past methods and it has been found to work well, proving the truth of the old adage "There is safety in numbers." It is with pleasure at this time that I take this opportunity to say, in all sincerity, that in all my life, which to a great extent has been spent in meetings and conventions, have I had the good fortune to co-operate with thirty-two gentlemen who so impressed me with the importance of their honesty, sincerity of purpose and one common intent to benefit the raisin industry.

Under adverse circumstances a common way has been discovered whereby an amalgamation has been effected of the leading packers and the combined growers which points to three years of prosperity for the raisin producers. It might be considered an ideal situation wherein the producers control the entire business connected with their product, such as producing, packing, selling, etc., but such situations are the result of evolution only and then only as a result of a preconceived plan successfully carried out.

The entire situation today is nearer this ideal than any condition of the past. The time is ripe, at present, to call on all growers, who have not yet signed the growers' contract to give sober thought to the important matter of joining the new California Raisin Growers' Company. Every grower in the company is a positive force to raise the price of raisins, while on the contrary, every grower outside the company is an equally positive force to prevent a rise in the price of raisins.

Can the outside grower, view with self-complacency the attitude in which he stands by hoping to profit immediately because the great majority of his fellow growers stand shoulder to shoulder for better or for worse? Can not the outside grower realize that if all the growers should act as he is now doing, the value of raisins would be much less than they are at the present moment?

Why is the outside grower today holding his raisins for 4% to 5% per pound in the sweat box? Because he knows the new raisin growers' company is a force for high prices and that the sole object of the existence of the company is to get as high a price as statistical conditions will permit.

The fewer outside raisins there are on the market to undersell association raisins, the closer would be the control of the new company. This is a simple proposition which any school boy can easily comprehend, and it is hoped that the outside grower will immediately before it is too late, see the error of his ways, and join the growers' company, thus ending his help to the securing of the highest obtainable price, for the present season.

I sincerely and earnestly appeal, for the last time, to all of those growers who have not yet signed the new contract to consider the situation thoroughly and hasten to join their fellow growers in their efforts to benefit themselves and the community at large.

The crop is upon us now and any further action to benefit the situation will depend entirely upon the action of the outside growers, only with this final appeal, I beg to remain sincerely yours for the prosperity of the entire community.

S. F. TAPPEY,

Vice President California Raisin Growers' Company.

KEPT UNION CARD

L. A. AUSTIN ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

While a Non-Union Man, Persisted in Displaying Out of Date Certificate.

A union card hanging in the shop of L. A. Austin, an I street barber, was the cause of some little stir among the unionists of Fresno last week, and resulted in the arrest of Austin on a charge of embezzlement day before yesterday.

Austin has been in business for over a year at his present place and has had hanging on the wall an old union card. The card is out of date, a kind that the international union recalled three years ago. Members of the union state that the cards are never issued as the property of an individual, but are to remain forever the property of the union. This particular form of card was dispensed with, so that it no longer had any legal value as the despoiled said that the use of the old card, may have come into possession of it, he had it on the wall, and at the same time was not a member of the union.

Several times during the past year, officers of the local Barbers' union have gone to Austin, asking him either to join the union and get a new card, or else give up the old card, thus acknowledging his position as a non-union barber.

Charles Newman, a teamster of Shawville, legally it did not have any standing, decided many men here thinking Austin was in good standing. Austin, however, was always able to bluff out of giving up the card.

Last Thursday, W. J. Kepner, president of the Barbers' union went to Austin and demanded the card. Austin claimed Kepner had no right to it and would not give it up. Kepner asked Kepner to join the union and he refused. Kepner then went out to consult with members of the federated trades, vowing that he would get the card, whereupon Austin took it down and when Kepner got back it was not to be found.

Kepner proceeded to swear out a warrant for Austin's arrest on a charge of embezzlement in the police court, and got a search warrant for the card. On being arrested, Austin produced the card and handed it over to the union man. Austin is out on his own recognizance.

Friendship Rebekah Lodge Holds Social Evening.

Friendship Rebekahs, I. O. O. F., met last night for a social evening and all business of the lodge was laid aside. A large number of members were present to enjoy the entertainment given by Mrs. West's side, which obtained the fewer number of candidates. The program was as follows:

Instrumental solo. Mrs. Murray.

Recitation. Mrs. Bernhardt.

Tableau. "Orphans Home."

Recitation. Mrs. Rice.

Quartet. Mrs. Harkins, Mrs. White, Mrs. Lizzie O'Brien and Ethel Howell.

Recitation. Maude West.

Tableau. "Rebekah at the Well."

Guest Drill, twenty young ladies.

This concluded the program and refreshments were served. Card games were afterwards indulged in until a late hour.

Fraternal Brotherhood Social.

Fresno lodge, No. 91, Fraternal Brotherhood, will give one of its popular watermelon socials at the meeting tomorrow night.

Death of Charles Newman.

Friendship Rebekah Lodge Holds Social evening, took sick of pneumonia about a week ago, and was brought down to the county hospital for treatment. He grew worse and died last evening about 6 o'clock. Newman was past 50 years of age. He was an uncle of Hart Brothers, the draymen of Fresno.

SOME TYPES OF ACTORS IN CHARACTER PLAYS.

Richard Mansfield's wife was the first American interpreter of Ibsen and "A Doll's House" was the play, about fifteen years ago, when his writings were known to but a few readers in this country. Ignorance was so general that Mansfield tells the title of the piece led mothers to bring their children to the first afternoon representation in a large city. It was near holiday time, too, and something in the way of a fairy piece for the youngsters was expected.

If a poster's promise were a legal contract, I could get back the dollar that I paid to see the Dizzy Dazzlers. I would merely have to put the billboard picture before a jury along with the actual sight. And I think I might secure punitive damages besides. The name wasn't Dizzy Dazzlers, but something like that, and the company was one of the fourteen that have come to our reopened "burlesque houses" within a week.

I expected to see extravaganzas in its roughest and toughest, and didn't count on any such beauty as the lithographer had shaped and colored. But I wasn't nerved for the shock of those showgirls as they disclosed themselves in an opening chorus.

"I can imagine that if you had stood on a Bowery corner and caught the first twenty women that came along, I said to the manager, 'an immensely average might have been the result. But why, oh why, and by what process, did you make such an ugly collection as this?'"

"He shouldn't have sat himself down beside me, but he didn't; he laughed and said: 'Well, they ain't good looking, for a fact.'"

"Why do you bring out those two just turning the corner?" I asked. "They're hags."

"Oh, they're character actresses," he explained, "and they play henpecking wives in the piece. They mustn't be young or beautiful or know."

"Well, how about that drawny pair with weatherbeaten faces?"

"Oh, they're a sister team, engaged for their boxing-match specialty, and, of course, they've got to be tough-headed."

"And that rack-o-boned, death's-head couple?"

"They're a team of skipping-rope dancers, and they'd get winded if they had to carry any flesh. You must understand, we've got to have the talent."

"You don't seem to have the talent," a girl said to me from the front, and has any talent? Why, she's absolutely graceless; she can't even look pleasant. Why don't you make her smile?"

At that moment the girl grinned with dreadful teeth and the manager said: "That's the answer."

STRANDED SCHOONER WILL GO TO PIECES ON REEF OF ROCKS.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Tugs sent from San Pedro to attempt some relief for the stranded schooner J. M. Coleman, fast on the rocks of San Miguel Island, have returned without being able to afford any assistance. It is expected that the schooner will finally go to pieces and will be a total loss. She lies very close in shore on a dangerous reef of rocks, and the tugs were unable to approach nearer than half a mile of her position. The schooner, owned by the same company as the Coleman, has left San Pedro for a last effort to pull off her sister ship. The schooner went on the rocks in a fog last Sunday night. All of her crew have been taken off. She carries a cargo of lumber.

Abcesses, with few exceptions, are indications of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment. I got a 50c size and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world. Sold by Geo. H. ## CONDITIONS AT BAKU IMPROVED

ARE FUTILE.

Oil Men Under Escort Visit Fields and
Find Scenes of Indescribable Destruction.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 10. (3:30 a.m.)—The situation at Baku yesterday showed a slight but perceptible change for the better. Dispatches received here indicated that the rioters had made no headway in their attempts at incendiarism in the "black town" quarter, where comparative order was restored, and only a few shots were being fired. Several banks had re-opened.

Oil men escorted by the troops were able for the first time to visit the fields which for four days had been practically in the hands of the Tartars. They report scenes of indescribable destruction. About three-quarters of the property there, they say, was burned to the ground and plundering and incendiarism continued. Hundreds of tanks were destroyed, the pumping machinery is useless and the houses of the workmen demolished. It is impossible to fix accurately the losses sustained, but rebuilding operations will take half a year if the workmen return immediately.

One of the oil men estimated the number of dead at over 1000; half of whom were killed in the city during the early rioting, but he admitted that the estimate was only a guess.

Although the loss in the oil fields had been reported as total, St. Petersburg representative of the Baku Bourse committee declared to the Associated Press, after an inspection of all the telegrams received by the oil men here, that not a single refinery in "Black Town" had been burned and that that important department of the oil industry was not touched.

The troops are reported as being tired, owing to their continued exertions, but fresh reinforcements are relieving them. A member of the staff of the hospital at Balakhan, where all the patients were reported to have been massacred, telegraphs that the staff of doctors and patients are all safe.

JAPS AND SLAVS STILL FIGHTING

WAR OPERATIONS AT FRONT HAVE NOT CEASED.

Skirmishes are frequent and there has been much useless shedding of blood.

GODZYADANIA, (Manchuria, Sept. 8. (delayed in transmission).—Despite the fact that dispatches from St. Petersburg have announced a treaty of peace has been signed, the war operations have not ceased and both sides stand ready for a fight.

Skirmishes have taken place daily during the past three days along the entire front and each day has seen the shedding of blood uselessly. The casualties during the three days amount to three officers and eight men killed and ninety wounded. According to reports the Japanese are concentrating considerable forces beyond their left flank in the Braifui district.

EDITOR THOMPSON WAS FOULY MURDERED FOR WEALTH IN POCKETBOOK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—In the case of Jacob H. Thompson, exchange editor of the New York Times, who was found unconscious in his room yesterday suffering from many wounds of the face and head, the police have found two distinct clues and are working on both. A hammer was discovered in the room of the murdered man and it was found that his wallet, which he carried in the inside pocket of his waistcoat was missing when the ambulance surgeon arrived and began his attendance on the injured man.

The hammer with which the police agree that the murder was undoubtedly committed was lying on a shelf in the telephone closet. The missing wallet in which there may have been a large sum of money is regarded as positive proof that the murder was committed for theft.

Mr. Thompson always carried considerable money with him.

Mendez Capote received the nomination for the vice presidency. The platform declares strongly for a five years' extension of the reciprocity treaty with the United States and for amendments therefor according with the interests of both countries.

Commerce Commission to Meet.
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Senator S. B. Elkins of West Virginia, chairman of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce announced today that he had issued a call to members of the committee to meet at Washington, on November 15th, to frame a bill providing for railroad rate supervision and regulation by the government to be introduced at the coming session of congress.

THE CONKERS APPEAR

Wife Coming to Aid of Husband With a Shot Gun.

Ed Conker was arrested last evening at his home, 1524 E street, by Officer Ben Dreth for disturbing the peace. Conker and his wife had been drinking all day and the evening Conker went to the corner to get another drink. Upon his return a few minutes later he met two men in front of his house. He commenced to call them vile names, and struck one of the men. The assaulted citizen struck back, they clinched and it looked like a real Nelson-Brit fight. The third man separated them, but back they came again for another clinch and in the breakaway Conker lost his footing and fell to the ground, howling and yelping for mercy.

The wife, who was in the house, heard the cries and came out with a shot gun. The men tried to take the gun away from her but as she looked determined they passed on very rapidly.

Officer Dreth was a few blocks away and when he reached the scene he disarmed the intoxicated woman. She was making mauling threats against three children who were curious to find out what had happened.

Dreth arrested Conker and placed him in jail. Conker is a bad man when he is drinking. A short time ago he beat his wife with a hoe, inflicting severe bruises on her head and body. For this he got ten days.

CELEBRATE THE BIRTH OF STATE

THOUSANDS PARTICIPATE IN THE SACRAMENTO FESTIVITIES.

Last Night's Parade Glittered With Thousands of Electric Lights On Beautiful Floats.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—The great electrical parade tonight was a magnificent finish to the splendid ceremonies and festivities in honor of the fifty-fifth anniversary of the admission of California to the Union.

Nearly a score of floats were in line, all electrically illuminated with brilliancy not before equalled. There was no lack in the line that was not artistic in design and finish, and in the great majority of cases the outlines of the structures were all laid down in incandescent lights. One of the floats in three sections employed 5000 lamps. In that, as in all the other cases the electrical current was fed from the overhead trolley and therefore the procession followed the course of the electric railway.

The most brilliant and novel of the floats was that of the Sacramento Gas and Electric Railway company, which is a reproduction in action of its works from the genesis of power to this city, a distance of twenty-two miles. No such multitude of people has ever before been seen in the capitol city as gathered here today. It was a perfect jamb, but one of good natured people who accepted the key of the city freely and in no instance abused the trust. The parade by day was one hour and forty minutes in passing a given point. It was a beautiful procession of youth and beauty, handsome, uniforming and novel floats and devices and was ruled by the most enthusiastic spirit. Patriotism, loyalty to the state, good fellowship to the workers of native sons and native daughters ruled every moment supremely.

The pageant was brilliant and spectacular in every detail. And the main thoroughfares, through which the great procession passed, were crowded with thousands upon thousands of people, who became wildly demonstrative as some feature of particular beauty passed in review.

Silk banners, brilliant uniforms, handsome equipages beautifully decorated, handsome women attired in snowy white, and sturdy Native Sons and charming Native Daughters marching by the thousands to the stirring strains of more than 100 brass bands, were features which passed in panorama through streets gaily and elaborately decorated.

Native Sons and Native Daughters from all parts of the state, some coming from quarters so remote as to require several days to make the trip, were in the line of march, and as compensation for the great effort they made to be here they had the ringing cheers of the delighted multitude.

Conspicuous throughout the long procession was the Bear Flag, dear to the hearts of the Pioneers and the Native Sons alike, which fluttered at the head of many marching parades. Bears of various ages and size were also prominent in the line of march. Some were led by chain, while others were confined in ornamental cages.

It was the greatest demonstration the Native Sons ever made. There was not a dull feature and the great throngs of people waited for the last of the parade before dispersing.

FATAL TROLLEY CAR COLLISION

FIVE PERSONS KILLED AND SEVENTY-FIVE INJURED.

Passenger Coach Crashes Into Freight
on Electric Line Near York, Pennsylvania.

YORK, Pa., Sept. 9.—Five persons were killed and seventy-five injured in a collision between a passenger and freight trolley cars on a railway today, about six miles from here.

The dead:
HENRY SPRINKLE, York.
P. SENFT, Dallastown.
SETH SENFT, Dallastown.
E. E. SHINDLER, Windsor.
RALPH MILLIGAN, York.

The hospital is filled with the injured, some of them suffering from serious wounds. The noise of the collision, followed by the cries of the injured, attracted the attention of the farmers in the vicinity, who rendered all aid possible. Twenty of the more seriously injured were placed on a freight car and brought to this city. A special car with physicians was dispatched to the scene and all of the injured received medical attention. Several towns and cities in the vicinity of the accident were brought here in special cars. It is not known whether any of the injured are fatally hurt.

AWFUL RESULT OF EARTHQUAKE

LIST OF DEAD AND INJURED NUMBERS THOUSANDS.

Whole Families are Wiped Out and Wants of Homeless Cannot Be Alleviated.

ROME, Sept. 9.—The effects of the earthquake yesterday in Calabria were more disastrous than at first reported. Dispatches from the south give increasing lists of dead and injured, the numbers now running into the thousands. Martino alone shows 200 casualties, while at Parghella the number of dead is estimated at 300 and at Lappolo 200. Many persons are still entombed in the ruins of these and other districts. In some cases whole families have been wiped out.

The greatest agitation continues among the populace. Slight shocks are felt occasionally and subterranean rumblings are still heard. Those persons still possessing homes refuse to enter them.

The worst is now considered to be over. Those left destitute are beginning to feel the pangs of hunger and there is also much suffering by those insufficiently clad. Success in pouring in from all quarters; but the destitution is so widespread that it is impossible to supply all the needs of the people.

In addition to the gift of King Victor Emmanuel and ministerial subsidies, newspapers in every part of Italy have opened subscriptions. Public sympathy regards the event as an awful calamity. Officers and private citizens in the affected provinces are throughout the kingdom are hastening to assist in the work of rescue and are displaying almost superhuman energy in these efforts.

Official figures of victims of the earthquake in the province of Catanzaro show that 450 dead have already been found, that about 1000 were injured and that there is an enormous number of persons without shelter.

Yellow Fever at Vicksburg.
VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 9.—Three new cases, and one death of yellow fever were reported today.

CANAL LABORERS NEARLY STARVING

PANAMA FOOD PRICES PREVENT THEIR EATING.

Their Demands Prompted Chairman
Shonte to Make Contract for Furnishing Food.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—It was learned today that a condition of practical starvation which has several times recently threatened Panama canal laborers was one of the grounds which caused Theodore P. Shonte, chairman of the Panama Canal commission, to accept the J. E. Markel bid for supplying food to government employees at Panama, causing two unsuccessful bidders to protest to President Roosevelt.

The chief engineer, John E. Stevens, has been sending daily appeals to the canal commissioners' headquarters to send his men food. It was said today by authority that the laborers who are doing the hard work have been for some time in a half-starved condition, due to the fact that the demand for food has raised the prices of all commodities to abnormal figures in Panama.

The dollar a day men, with eggs at 10 cents each and meat from 20 to 40 cents a pound, have gone for two and three days at a time without any food except that got from sucking the wild cane in the swamps. They have gathered around the quarters of the officers, begging for food, and daily cables to Washington for food supplies have been the result. In this emergency one of the reasons for accepting the Markel bid, it is learned, was the fact that he has an organized force ready to put into Panama at once.

PRESIDENT ENTERTAINS
THE PEACE ENVOYS
OF BOTH NATIONS.

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 9.—Entertaining Baron Komura and Minister Takahira at luncheon today and Mr. Witte and Baron de Rosen at dinner tonight, President Roosevelt extended to the peace envoys of Japan and Russia his first official courtesies and expressed to them, on behalf of the American people, gratification that the labors of their mission to America have been performed successfully.

Washington Wheat Crop.
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 9.—Morris Thompson, president of the Centennial Mill company, estimates that California will use 6,000,000 bushels of Washington wheat this year. He also states that orders for approximately 15,000,000 bushels have been received from the United Kingdom. The present harvest in Washington is estimated at 35,000,000 bushels.

Thomas W. Lawson is Sued.
BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Claiming that he has been damaged to the extent of $3,750,000 by the failure of Thomas W. Lawson to keep an agreement with him, Louis H. Bahr of Urquie, Mexico, entered suit against Mr. Lawson in the Supreme court today.

Fire at Summer Resort.
CHICO, Cal., Sept. 9.—The Powellton hotel and eight cottages owned by C. A. Henry have been destroyed by fire, costing a loss of $40,000. The Powellton is a summer resort twenty miles from Chico.

Aeronaut Falls to His Death.
BALTIMORE, Sept. 9.—Aeronaut John August, aged 25, was instantly killed today by falling 2000 feet from his apparatus during an exhibition.

Vast Cost of Forest Fires.
A million dollar fire in a lumber yard excites public attention and comment from Maine to California. Few pay attention to the $25,000,000 worth of lumber annually destroyed in the United States by forest fires. The price of beef, gas, and railway rates is a permanent topic of active discussion and controversy. Few give any heed to the recent enormous increase in the cost of lumber or to the danger of an early exhaustion of our forest resources.

SYSONBY WINS

$25,000 STAKE

WONDERFUL THREE YEAR OLD'S
VICTORY IS EASY.

Owner's Winnings For the Year Amount to More Than Two Hundred Thousand Dollars.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Amid the rousing cheers of 25,000 persons James R. Keene's champion three-year-old colt Sysonby easily captured the annual champion stake of $25,000 at Sheepshead Bay today. Sysonby was held at 1 to 6, and galloped over his field in the first mile and a quarter. His time for the distance, two and one quarter miles is 3:54 flat, which is just 2-5 of a second slower than the track record made by Igniter in 1903.

In the victory of Sysonby today the winnings this year of James R. Keene amount to a little over $211,000. Oiseau was second, thirty lengths before Broomstick, who was being eased up through the stretch.

Fire Threatens Niagara Mills.
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A fire which started in the wire tower of the Niagara Falls Hydraulic Power company tonight threatened the entire milling district. The plant of the Pittsburgh Reduction company was the only one seriously damaged. The loss there will be about $10,000. Half the city is in darkness owing to the destruction of the power conduits. The damage to the power company's plant will be heavy.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 9.—Frank Kramer won the title of two mile American champion at the Vailsburg Cycle track tonight, but he divided the honor and perhaps money with Eddie Root, who was his team mate in the deciding heat.

OLD AND YOUNG
habit of riding in an auto. It's so easily acquired and so hard not to acquire. We have acquired the habit of ordering automobiles by the carload of late, because so many people have acquired the habit of coming into our garage every day and buying either
WHITE, A FLESCHE, A
REO OR AN AUTO-
CAR.

The "White" is a steam car; the other three are gasoline cars. Various types and prices of each. Simplicity, economy, speed, comfort and ability to negotiate all roads and grades have attained the highest perfection in these four makes.
Come in and we'll prove it.
